Occupying an impressive plot extending to over half an acre, this individually positioned, detached, single-storey residence enjoys a delightful setting on the outskirts of the highly sought-after village of Frisby on the Wreake.

Offering generous accommodation and wonderful open views across rolling countryside to the rear, the property presents a rare opportunity for those seeking space, privacy and a semi-rural lifestyle.

Accommodation:

Internally, the accommodation is arranged across one level and provides versatile living space ideal for a range of purchasers. A welcoming entrance hall leads to a generous sitting room, with a large conservatory beyond framing the rear aspect. The dining kitchen offers ample storage and workspace.

All rooms are well proportioned, with four bedrooms, a family bathroom, and an additional fitted dressing/seating area with French doors opening onto the garden.

Gardens and land:

Externally, the property is set well back from the road and approached via a private driveway providing ample off-road parking and access to a detached garage/workshop.

The formal gardens are mature and well landscaped, laid predominantly to lawn with established boundaries and planting, backing directly onto neighbouring farmland and affording an enviable sense of peace and seclusion.

Location:

Frisby on the Wreake is a charming and well-regarded Leicestershire village, appreciated for its strong sense of community and attractive rural surroundings.

The village offers a range of everyday amenities including a primary school, village hall, public house and parish church, together with scenic countryside walks along the River Wreake. Despite its peaceful setting, the village is superbly positioned for commuters, lying within easy reach of the A607 providing direct links to Leicester and Melton Mowbray. The A46 and A1 are also readily accessible, offering convenient routes towards Nottingham, Derby and beyond.
