The Property

Occupying a pleasant position within the established residential development of Maes Y Dre, number 46 is a well-proportioned three-bedroom semi-detached home offering generous living space, far-reaching views across the surrounding countryside and the added advantage of no onward chain.

The accommodation is arranged over two floors and has clearly been a much-loved family home. On the ground floor, a welcoming entrance hall leads through to a spacious living room, which in turn opens into a well-proportioned conservatory. This is a real highlight of the property, flooded with natural light and enjoying open views across the fields and hills beyond, creating an additional reception space that can be enjoyed throughout the year.

The kitchen is a good size, fitted with cream shaker-style cabinetry and offering ample worktop and storage space. Off the kitchen, a useful utility room provides additional practicality, with a ground floor WC completing this level. A large integral garage with an electric roller door and plumbing already in situ offers excellent potential as a utility or workshop space, as well as generous storage. A driveway to the front provides convenient off-road parking.

Upstairs, three bedrooms are served by a well-appointed family bathroom with bath and overhead shower. All three bedrooms benefit from built-in cupboards, providing excellent storage throughout. The principal bedroom is a comfortable double, while bedroom two is also a good-sized double, both enjoying views over the rooftops towards the hills beyond. Bedroom three is currently used as a single but would suit a nursery or home office equally well.

Outside, the rear garden has been thoughtfully designed with ease of maintenance in mind. A generous patio wraps around the back of the property, and the elevated position ensures the views remain a constant feature, with rolling fields and the distinctive mid-Wales hillscape stretching beyond the boundary.

Number 46 is a home ready for its next chapter, offered with no onward chain and well suited to buyers seeking space, practicality and outlook in equal measure.
