On the 39th floor of DAMAC Tower, where London becomes a tapestry of light, movement, and possibility, you'll find a residence crafted for the buyer who refuses to live life at ground level. This is more than an apartment, it's a vantage point, a statement, a quiet flex.

A Residence That Lives Like a Story

The moment you step inside, the skyline greets you first. Floor-to-ceiling glass wraps the home, pulling the entire city into your living space from the shimmer of the Thames to the architectural drama of London's most iconic landmarks.

Three double bedrooms form the backbone of the home, each designed with intention and calm authority. Two feature beautifully finished en-suite bathrooms, dressed in Versace tiling that turns everyday routines into rituals.

And then there's the signature element, A wrap-around indoor garden suspended in the sky. A sanctuary. A creative space. A moment of stillness above the noise.

Design That Speaks Without Raising Its Voice

Versace finishes throughout the kitchen and bathrooms. Natural light that moves across the apartment like theatre. A layout that feels both expansive and intimate.

This is luxury without excess: refined, confident, and deeply considered.

A Tower Built for Those Who Live Differently

DAMAC Tower isn't just a building; it's an ecosystem of elevated living.

Private Cinema A Versace-infused screening room for nights that deserve more than Netflix.

Games Room & Terrace Spaces designed for hosting, connecting, and unwinding.

24th-Floor Gym Train with skyline views that make discipline feel effortless.

23rd-Floor Pool & Spa A serene escape in the clouds — spa, jacuzzi, and pool included.

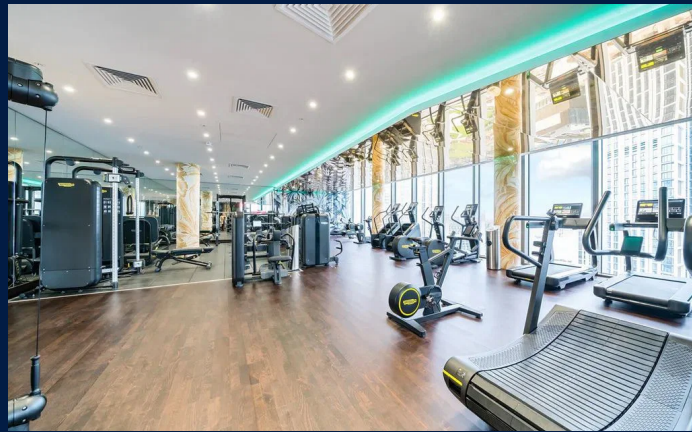

Rooftop Gardens Three landscaped terraces offering 360° views of London's evolving horizon.

Nine Elms — London's New Chapter

Positioned in one of the capital's most ambitious districts, the home sits moments from the U.S. Embassy, New Covent Garden Market, and the reimagined Battersea Power Station. The Thames riverfront is your neighbourhood promenade, and the upcoming 50-acre linear park will redefine outdoor living in South London.

We also hold access to additional residences within DAMAC Tower, Private tours available by request.
