An exceptional five bedroom family home situated on one of Parsons Green's most sought after residential roads.

Beautifully refurbished throughout, the house offers excellent proportions with well balanced living accommodation arranged over several floors. The ground floor enjoys a superb kitchen and dining room to the rear with bespoke cabinetry, a large central island and full width glazing overlooking the terrace garden. The house has a lovely natural flow, being semi open from the front reception through to the rear rather than completely open plan, creating defined living spaces whilst still feeling light and connected.

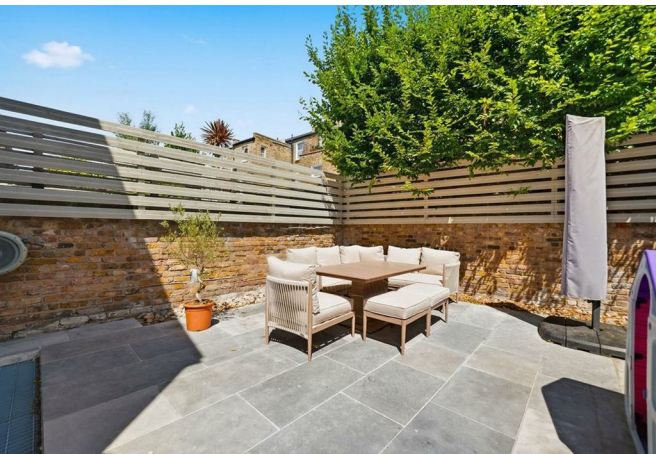

The lower ground floor provides excellent additional accommodation, comprising two generous bedrooms, both with en suite bathrooms, one of which is currently arranged as a cinema room. This floor also benefits from a substantial utility room complete with additional kitchen appliances, providing excellent storage and practicality.

The front reception room provides an elegant formal living space, whilst the flexible layout allows the lower ground floor to be used as guest accommodation, a media suite, gym or home office depending on individual requirements.

The principal bedroom is an excellent size and benefits from bespoke fitted wardrobes and a luxurious en suite bathroom. Three further double bedrooms all enjoy their own en suite bathrooms, making the house equally suited to families or those regularly accommodating guests.

To the rear is a great size terrace garden providing a private outdoor space ideal for entertaining or dining during the warmer months. Finished to an exceptional standard throughout, this is a turnkey home in one of Fulham's most desirable locations.
