ROOM TO GROW, INSIDE AND OUT

There’s something about a traditional Victorian home that just works for family life. Bigger rooms, higher ceilings, character and, in this case, a garden with the sort of space that can become a real extension of the home.

This attractive bay-fronted semi-detached house sits on Vancouver Avenue, putting you within easy reach of King’s Lynn town centre and its wide range of shops, schools and everyday amenities. The railway station is also conveniently close, making this a particularly practical choice if anyone in the family needs to commute.

Step inside and you’ll find the generous proportions you’d hope for from a home of this period. There are two separate reception rooms, giving you the flexibility to create a comfortable family living room alongside a dining room, playroom or second sitting room. It’s the sort of layout that allows everyone to have their own space without losing that feeling of a family home.

The ground floor also includes the kitchen, bathroom and a useful PVCu lean-to utility room, helping keep the everyday washing, muddy shoes and family clutter away from the main living areas.

Upstairs are three generous bedrooms, rather than one good room and two that feel like an afterthought, together with the convenience of a separate first-floor WC.

Outside is where this home has another big advantage. The large rear garden offers plenty of room for children to play, summer barbecues, entertaining friends or simply relaxing outside, with scope for keen gardeners to really make it their own. There’s also private parking to the rear, a valuable addition this close to the town centre.

The house benefits from double glazing and gas central heating, with a replacement combi boiler fitted in 2021.

If you’ve been searching for a family home with genuine space, a large garden and a convenient location, but still want the character and proportions of an older property, this Victorian semi on Vancouver Avenue deserves a closer look.
