

Langham Farm DUPE

Langham Farm DUPE, Ashprington, Totnes, Devon, TQ9 7UU

SITUATION

Langham Farm is located just outside the charming village of Ashprington, within the South Hams Area of Outstanding Beauty (AONB). Ashprington is known for its picturesque countryside, charming cottages and historic buildings. Its history dates back centuries, with the local church and manor house being notable landmarks. The area is also popular for outdoor activities such as walking, cycling, and boating, due to its proximity to the River Dart and the scenic Dartmoor National Park. Langham is just three miles from Totnes, a town which offers a mainline rail link to London in under 3 hours, a wonderfully eclectic mix of shops, cafes and pubs, a medical centre, a leisure centre and a supermarket.

The South Hams AONB is a designated region in Devon known for its stunning landscapes, diverse ecosystems, and picturesque coastal areas. Encompassing a mix of rolling countryside, charming villages, and beautiful coastline along the English Channel, the South Hams AONB is recognised for its natural and cultural heritage and the AONB status helps protect and conserve the area's natural beauty, wildlife habitats, and traditional farming practices while providing opportunities for whole host of outdoor activities.

Salcombe (20 miles) and Dartmouth (10 miles) are two of the most prominent coastal resorts within the South Hams and are well known to both national and international sailors. The University city of Exeter is about 30 miles to the North and offers a extensive range of retail, commercial and cultural facilities as well as an International Airport.
