A substantial barn conversion set within approximately 5.23 acres of ring-fenced grounds, combining extensive living space with a wide range of outbuildings, leisure facilities and flexible accommodation.

The property centres around a five-bedroom red brick barn conversion, offering generous rooms and a layout suited to both family life and entertaining. The main kitchen and dining area is arranged as an open-plan space, fitted with sage green shaker-style units and quartz worktops, creating a practical and sociable heart to the house. A utility room and ground floor WC add day-to-day convenience. The main lounge is notably spacious and centred around a wood-burning stove, bringing warmth and character to the room.

Upstairs are five double bedrooms, including a principal bedroom with en-suite. There is also access to a boarded attic, providing substantial additional storage.

A particularly valuable feature is the attached one-bedroom annexe, which is internally connected yet also benefits from its own separate entrance and outside space. The annexe includes a large lounge with patio doors, a kitchen fitted with dark grey shaker-style units, and a bathroom with both bath and separate shower. This arrangement lends itself well to multi-generational living, guest accommodation or potential income use.

Beyond the residential accommodation, the property includes an extensive leisure and entertainment area. An L-shaped building currently houses a games and party room complete with bar area and sink, alongside a heated indoor swimming pool with its own changing room, shower and WC facilities.

Outside, the grounds have been arranged to balance practical use with more relaxed outdoor areas. A newly built patio sits alongside a wildlife pond and productive vegetable garden with two polytunnels.

The outbuildings and agricultural structures are a major part of the property's appeal. A large, enclosed barn offers space for workshop use, storage or vehicle housing, while a second open-style agricultural barn provides further flexibility. In addition, there are three garages with up-and-over doors along with further storage buildings, a red brick potting shed and a brick-built chicken shed with scope for repair or future use, subject to any necessary permissions.

The grounds extend to approximately 5.23 acres, fully enclosed and without public rights of way crossing the land. A large front yard provides parking for numerous vehicles and easy access to the outbuildings. Further practical features include 16 solar panels with a feed-in tariff and timber double-glazed windows throughout the main house.

Overall, this is a property with a broad range of possibilities, combining substantial living accommodation with leisure facilities, workshop and storage space, and land suited to a variety of lifestyles and long-term uses.
