Area

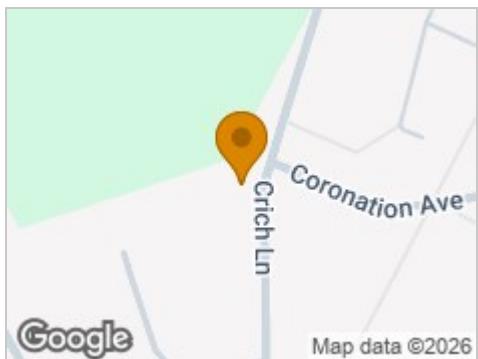

The historic market town of Belper sits within the beautiful Derwent Valley, significant in world history as the birthplace of the factory system. Here, new types of building were erected to house groundbreaking technology for water-powered manufacturing. The system developed here was copied across the globe which is why the Derwent Valley Mills were inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List in 2001. The town has a vibrant high street with artisan coffee shops and restaurants. The town also has a main line railway station.
