Nestled in a quiet residential cul-de-sac in the heart of the Lake District National Park, this two-double-bedroom dormer bungalow offers comfortable, versatile living, established gardens, ample parking and a detached garage. The generous lounge provides a welcoming space to relax, while the formal dining room has glazed patio doors opening onto the rear garden. The well-equipped kitchen offers excellent storage, with a ground-floor double bedroom featuring built-in furniture and a shower room completing this level. Upstairs, a spacious double bedroom with built-in storage is complemented by a dressing room leading to the bathroom. Outside, there is a large drive and a detached garage with remote-controlled door. The garage incorporates a utility room and sun room, with glazed doors opening onto the patio garden. A productive vegetable garden includes raised beds, an apple tree, shed and greenhouse, making this an excellent choice for gardening enthusiasts.
