OUTSIDE

The landscaped south-east-facing rear garden provides an attractive and enjoyable outdoor setting. Principally laid to lawn, it is complemented by colourful planted borders and a patio adjoining the house—perfect for outdoor dining and making the most of the morning and afternoon sunshine. A useful garden shed provides additional storage, while a gated side path gives convenient access from the front of the property. To the front is an established garden, driveway parking for one vehicle and access to the integral garage.

Highfield Drive occupies an established residential position on the western side of Portishead, offering an appealing balance between convenient access to the town and the outdoor lifestyle for which this popular coastal location is renowned. Families are particularly well catered for, with High Down Infant and Junior Schools located nearby, together providing education from nursery age through to Year 6. A selection of other primary and secondary schools can also be found across Portishead, while everyday amenities are readily available along the traditional High Street and around the vibrant Marina. These include supermarkets, independent shops, cafés, restaurants, leisure facilities and a range of professional services.

Portishead offers an excellent choice of recreational opportunities, including coastal walks, open green spaces, the Lake Grounds, open-air swimming pool, sailing facilities and the picturesque Marina. The surrounding countryside and nearby Gordano Valley provide further opportunities for walking, cycling and enjoying the outdoors. For commuters, the A369 provides access towards Bristol, while Junction 19 of the M5 connects with the wider motorway network. The reinstatement of the Portishead railway line is now underway, with passenger services currently expected to begin in winter 2028/29. The planned service will provide hourly direct trains from Portishead to Bristol Temple Meads, with an anticipated journey time of approximately 25 minutes—an exciting improvement to the town's already strong transport connections.
