This isn't just a house; it's a cherished family chapter waiting for its next author. Held by the same family since the 1980s, this home radiates a warmth that only decades of memories can provide, offering a rare opportunity to secure a substantial semi-detached property with a truly heartfelt history. The ground floor welcomes you with a spacious through reception, where light pours in and sliding doors draw your eye toward the greenery outside. The separate kitchen also leads directly to a well-tended, low maintenance garden. Here, a patio area gives way to a lush lawn and mature borders—a peaceful sanctuary perfect for morning coffees. Additionally there is an office/fourth bedroom and shower room on this level. Ascending to the first floor, the main bedroom featuring a deep bay window and extensive fitted wardrobes. A second generous double also boasts ample built-in storage and garden views, a decent third bedroom and a traditional family bathroom with a separate W.C complete the upper level. While the home has been lovingly maintained, it is now ready for a gentle restoration to bring it into a new era. For those with a vision, the potential is excellent. With off street parking, there is significant scope to create a "forever home" by extending fully above the garage, across the rear, or upward into the loft (STPP). Nestled on a tranquil residential road, you are part of a quiet community while remaining remarkably connected. You are just a good stroll from Norbiton Station and moments away from local amenities, offering the perfect balance of suburban peace and urban convenience. EPC rating D. Council tax band F.
