The Property

Discreetly positioned along a minor country lane in the rural parish of Monks Eleigh, Westcote is an individual detached house which dates from the 1980's.

The family accommodation provides a practical and pleasing layout throughout, with a notable amount natural light on both floors.

The core accommodation provides a welcoming, triple aspect front sitting room with a central fireplace housing a wood burner. Part glazed double doors lead through to the central dining room, which is essentially open plan to the recently modernised kitchen - which is stylishly fitted with quartz worksurfaces, matching range of base and eye level units with integral Neff appliances.

Also recently updated is the adjacent utility / boot room, with oak worktops, a further sink and plumbing / space for a washing machine.

Attached to the rear of the house (south) is a substantial conservatory / garden room, which provides access and panoramic views over the principal south-facing garden.

Accessed via the main front hall, the first floor comprises five bedrooms in all, where the main triple aspect bedroom provides an ensuite bathroom to one corner. The remaining three double bedrooms and a single bedroom are all served by a family bathroom with shower.

Outside, the house is set well back in its plot, forming a raised front kitchen garden defined by a retaining wall. Adjacent is the generous front parking area, which gives access to the integral double garage with workshop.

The principal garden is to the rear, which enjoys a private, south-facing aspect comprising a sheltered patio with two-tiered areas of lawn beyond, both defined by a further retaining wall and flower borders. The garden main extends to the elevated southern boundary (which has been recently stabilised and planted with native tree saplings) with arable farmland beyond.
