Property Introduction

Situated within the historic mining village of St Day, this terraced cottage, close to the village centre, has recently been updated and is offered for sale with no onward chain.

Ideal for the first-time buyer, there are two double size bedrooms and a remodelled shower room on the first floor. The front door opens onto a quirky triangular shape lounge which features a wood burning stove set within a floor-to-ceiling granite lintel fireplace and from here, there is access to a fitted kitchen/diner. The cottage is uPVC double glazed and there are modern electric panel heaters.

To the rear is an enclosed courtyard style garden which has a high level of privacy and is a real sun trap.

In summary, a character property which is ideal for the first-time buyer, viewing our interactive virtual tour is strongly recommended prior to arranging a closer inspection.

Location

Situated within the historic mining village of St Day, this cottage is located in a conservation area and the wider World Heritage mining site.

St Day has a convenience store, Post Office, butchers and Public House to meet most day-to-day needs. Schooling for younger children is also available in the village.

Conveniently located for access to the south coast university town of Falmouth which is within eight miles and the city of Truro which is within a similar distance, the nearest major town is Redruth which is within two miles. Redruth offers a range of both national and local retail outlets, there is a mainline Railway Station which connects with London Paddington and the north of England and education for older children is available in a well respected local school.

Access to the A30 trunk road is to the north of Redruth.
