Guide price £350,000
Glenfield Road, Bideford, EX39

The building sits above five lock-up garages with an additional garage adjacent. The agents believe this represents an ideal opportunity for buyers requiring extensive parking and garaging, and it may particularly appeal to motor enthusiasts or those needing substantial storage or workshop space. The current accommodation briefly comprises an entrance lobby, breakfast room and kitchen, dining room, and a good-sized lounge, together with a further ground-floor bedroom and an en-suite wet room. On the first floor there are two additional bedrooms and a family bathroom. The adjoining workshop, extending to approximately 1,500 sq ft, benefits from an automated roller door, large sliding doors, as well as light, power, and water supply. Outside, there is an enclosed paved and gravel garden area. Accessed from Glentor Road are the six garages which sit beneath the property.

Occupying a pleasant position within a well-established residential area, the property lies within easy reach of the centre of Bideford. Glentorr Place was originally constructed as a builder's workshop and offices but was converted many years ago to create a very spacious three-bedroom, three-reception room residence with a large adjoining workshop.

Planning consent to convert the building into three residential dwellings was granted in 2004 (Application No. 1/1001/2004/COU). This consent has lapsed, however further redevelopment opportunities may be available, subject to obtaining the necessary planning permissions.

The centre of Bideford is within an almost level walk and offers a good range of local and national retailers. The area is renowned for its stunning Atlantic coastline, with the glorious sandy beach at Westward Ho! and the natural beauty of Northam Burrows Country Park nearby.

There is access from here into the workshop which adjoins the residential accommodation. There is a further pedestrian side gate onto the lane between Glenfield Road and Glentor Road. From the lounge, there is access to an enclosed garden which is predominantly gravel and paved for ease of maintenance. This garden offers a high-level of privacy. There is a pedestrian gate which also provides an additional access along the side of the property onto Glenfield Road. Below the residential accommodation and workshop and accessible from Glentor Road are six lock up garages. Five of the garages sit beneath the property, the sixth set is adjacent to these. At the time of preparing these particulars, we have been unable to gain access to the garages and therefore have no measurements currently available.

As this was originally a commercial workshop and due to its construction with extensive flat roofing, the property may not fit within mortgage lenders' normal criteria. In addition, the adjoining workshop and garage block to the rear may be deemed as a possible commercial entity. We recommend any interested prospective buyer check with their bank or mortgage broker as to the property's suitability for mortgage finance.
