

Occupying a particularly convenient position within the sought-after village of Sutterton, this three-bedroom home has been tastefully modernised over the last two years to create a property with genuine character, warmth and broad appeal. The carefully chosen interiors feature a palette of rich, warm tones, complemented by recently fitted engineered oak flooring throughout the ground floor, creating an inviting and comfortable atmosphere which perfectly suits the character of the property.

Behind its traditional appearance, the cottage offers some particularly impressive modern benefits too. Air-source heating, ground-floor underfloor heating and 18 solar panels, installed by A Shade Greener in July 2012, combine to provide excellent energy efficiency for a property of this age. Recent improvements have also included a beautiful new kitchen finished in a sophisticated dark sage green with solid wooden worktops and a new roof to the conservatory.

For buyers seeking the charm and individuality of an older home without sacrificing modern comfort and efficiency, this should be particularly appealing. The combination of three bedrooms, generous living space, stylish interiors, air-source heating, underfloor heating, solar panels, extensive parking and a separate home office makes this a character cottage with considerably more to offer than first appearances might suggest.

Sutterton offers an appealing combination of village character and excellent everyday convenience, with amenities including a village store, restaurant, primary school, GP surgery, veterinary practice and fish and chip shop. The village is also well placed for access to Boston and Spalding and the surrounding Lincolnshire road network, especially the A16, A17 and A52.
