Coker Road, Canvey Island Offers in the region of £750,000

A substantial and highly versatile four-bedroom detached residence offering far more than first meets the eye. This impressive home delivers extensive ground floor living space, an integral self-contained annexe, and excellent energy efficiency features. Positioned just a stone's throw from Canvey Retail Park.

The main house provides three generous reception rooms on the ground floor, creating exceptional flexibility. These spaces are perfectly suited for additional bedrooms, playrooms, home offices or formal entertaining areas, depending on a buyer's requirements. A spacious entrance hall leads through to the principal lounge, separate study/optional bedroom, and additional reception space.

The kitchen benefits from integrated appliances and underfloor heating, while a four-piece shower room is conveniently located on the ground floor. Upstairs, the property offers four well-proportioned bedrooms, including a master suite with en-suite, alongside a main family bathroom.

Externally, the property continues to impress. Electric gates open onto a generous driveway providing ample off-street parking, in addition to a garage. The rear garden has been designed for low maintenance, with large decking and artificial lawn creating an ideal entertaining space.

A standout feature is the integral annexe, fully self-contained yet seamlessly connected. It includes its own lounge, kitchen, bathroom, bedroom and private courtyard, making it ideal for multi-generational living, guest accommodation or potential income use.

Further benefits include owned solar panels (approximately 15 years remaining), a recently replaced solar inverter (circa one year ago), and a solar-powered EV charging point. The vendors are also able to offer no onward chain
