OVERVIEW

A well-proportioned modern terraced home, built by Bovis Homes in the late 1990s, offering practical accommodation arranged over two floors, together with a garage and driveway parking.

The property forms part of a small terrace and benefits from a garage positioned at the end of the row, with a driveway in front providing off-road parking for one vehicle. The front elevation is typical of the period, with brick construction, pitched tiled roof and a recessed entrance.

Internally, the accommodation extends to approximately 73.2 sq. metres (787 sq. ft.). The ground floor comprises an entrance hall with WC, a fitted kitchen positioned to the front of the property, and a generous sitting/dining room spanning the full width of the house, providing clear space for both living and dining furniture and opening directly onto the rear garden.

To the first floor, there are three bedrooms, making the property well suited to families, first-time buyers or those needing a home office. The principal bedroom benefits from an en-suite shower room, while the remaining bedrooms are served by a modern bathroom accessed from the landing.

Externally, the rear garden is enclosed and designed for low maintenance, with a paved seating area immediately behind the house and the remainder laid to planting and soft landscaping. Timber fencing defines the boundaries and a timber shed provides useful storage.
