

Reynard Way, TW8

£995,000

A beautifully presented four-bedroom home combining contemporary style, generous accommodation and versatile living space.

Thoughtfully designed for comfort and functionality, the property offers four well-proportioned bedrooms with plenty of natural light and modern finishes. The principal and second bedrooms benefit from integrated storage, while the additional rooms offer flexibility as children's bedrooms, guest accommodation or a home office.

The ground floor features a bright, welcoming open-plan living and dining area, ideal for both family life and entertaining. Further benefits include energy-efficient solar panels, a garage and off-street parking.

An ideal choice for families or buyers seeking a modern, practical home with versatile accommodation.

Located in west London, Brentford offers a desirable mix of riverside surroundings, green spaces and excellent access to the capital. The area is close to the River Thames and provides a variety of shops, cafés, restaurants and leisure facilities. Nearby attractions include Syon House and Gardens and the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.

Brentford benefits from excellent rail and public transport links, with nearby Kew Bridge providing further rail connections and convenient access to west and central London.
