Situated on the northern edge of the vibrant market town of Kendal, this charming semi-detached home combines period character with modern comforts and is offered with no onward chain. Thoughtfully upgraded and ready to move into, it provides superb family accommodation. The ground floor features a welcoming entrance hall leading to a central dining room with a contemporary electric fire. To one side is the lounge with a matching contemporary electric fire, while to the other is a stylish modern kitchen with ample storage and worktop space, opening into a conservatory with views and access to the rear garden. Upstairs are three generous double bedrooms, two retaining attractive cast-iron fireplaces, together with a contemporary three-piece family bathroom. Outside, the property benefits from driveway parking for several vehicles, a detached single garage, and a well-maintained lawned garden with established planted borders.
