DESCRIPTION

A charming, detached granite farmhouse, understood to date back to the early 19th century and tastefully extended in recent years by the current owners. The property comprises a bright entrance hall with a WC and stairs rising to the first floor. The characterful sitting room enjoys a pleasant aspect to the front and features an impressive stone fireplace housing a wood-burning stove. A door leads through to the family/dining room extension, where large windows showcase the far-reaching views the property has to offer and provides impressive additional reception space. The kitchen comprises a range of wall-mounted cupboards and base units, an inset sink, space for appliances, a solid-fuel Rayburn, space for an electric cooker, and a half glazed door leading to the rear courtyard. The ground floor accommodation is completed by an integral car port, a utility room with space for appliances, and a boiler/boot room.

The first floor offers three double bedrooms and a family bathroom fitted with a bath, WC and wash hand basin. The principal bedroom is of superb proportions, featuring a vaulted ceiling and triple aspect views over the land and beyond. The principal bedroom also benefits from an en suite shower room with a WC and wash hand basin.

OUTSIDE

The property is approached via a private lane, leading to a substantial area of hardstanding situated in front of the outbuildings and to the side of the house, providing ample off-road parking. The gardens lie to the front and side of the property, taking full advantage of the views towards Carbis Bay. Predominantly laid to lawn, the gardens also feature a sheltered patio terrace bordered by a variety of flowering plants and shrubs. A further area provides a vegetable garden with polytunnel and greenhouse.

A range of stone and timber outbuildings provide useful storage and workshop space, including a charming cider barn currently utilised by the owners for their cider-making business (further details available upon request). A shepherds hut is available by separate negotiation.

The land comprises five pasture paddocks, a wildflower meadow, and an established apple orchard with a variety of mature fruit trees. To be fully appreciated, the property and its surroundings should be viewed in person. In all, the property extends to approximately 9.32 acres.
