Plymouth

Plymouth, Britain's Ocean City, is one of Europe's most vibrant waterfront cities. Located in one of the most beautiful locations imaginable, Plymouth is sandwiched between the incredible South West coastline and the wild beauty of Dartmoor National Park. Plymouth is 37 miles south-west of Exeter and 190 miles west-south-west of London, between the mouths of the rivers Plym to the east and Tamar to the west where they join Plymouth Sound to form the boundary with Cornwall, it is also home to one of the most natural harbours in the world. To the North of Plymouth is Dartmoor National Park, extending to over 300 square miles, which provides excellent recreational facilities.

The city is home to more than 260,000 people, making it the 30th most populated city in the United Kingdom and the second-largest city in the South West, after Bristol and has a full range of shopping, educational and sporting facilities. There is mainline train service to London (Paddington) and to Penzance in West Cornwall.

There's everything that you would expect to find in a cool, cultural city, with great shopping, arts and entertainment. But there's also hundreds of years of history to uncover, from Sir Francis Drake and the Spanish Armada to the Mayflower sailing in 1620, to a city rebuilt following the Blitz during World War II. With easy access to Exeter and its International Airport and a mainline train station giving direct access to London and a ferry port offering sea crossings to both France and Spain.

Plymouth is governed locally by Plymouth City Council and is represented nationally by three MPs. Plymouth's economy remains strongly influenced by shipbuilding and seafaring including ferry links to Brittany and Spain, but has tended toward a university economy since the early 2000's. It has the largest operational naval base in Western Europe – HMNB Devonport.

Sherford

With its proximity to essential facilities and excellent commuter connections, Sherford is a perfect choice with its own school and country park and additional amenities planned for the near future. It's just minutes from the A38, providing routes to Cornwall and Exeter. This new town, located on the outskirts of Plymouth, moments from the stunning South Devon coastline. With beautiful green open spaces to explore and the stunning Country Park close by, it's perfect for outdoor living—where wildlife and modern living coexist. Surrounded by thoughtfully landscaped green spaces, these energy efficient homes feature premium fixtures and smart technology, helping reduce costs while enjoying a sustainable lifestyle beyond older properties.

Development on the site was originally due to start in 2007, and its first 300 dwellings were to be built in 2009. In August 2015, the construction of the new town started on the first 700 homes after South Hams council accepted a new planning application in December 2011 formal planning permission was granted on 12 November 2013.

A new swimming pool will also be built in the town, which will be the closest pool to the residents of Plymstock It will include three primary schools, one secondary school, a library, a youth centre, a health centre and a new town centre with retail. The first of the primary schools, Sherford Vale Primary School, opened in September 2018.
