Why you'll like it

This three-bedroom end of terrace house is for sale in a small hamlet on the edge of Oxenhope, near Keighley. The property is in good condition and offers country and village views, appealing to first-time buyers and families seeking a quiet setting with access to local amenities.

The ground floor includes a separate reception room with patio doors opening directly to the garden, providing a pleasant outlook and connection to the outdoor space. The kitchen benefits from natural light, dining space and built-in pantries, offering practical storage and a comfortable area for everyday meals.

There are three double bedrooms, including an attic bedroom with eaves storage and two windows, one of which is a Velux, helping to maximise light and space. The bathroom is modern, with a shower over the bath. A cellar provides additional storage.

Outside, the property has a lawn garden, perfect for families and entertaining guests

Oxenhope offers village amenities including primary schooling and local shops, with further facilities available in nearby Keighley. The area is known for its open countryside, with access to local walks and green space. Keighley railway station, around a short drive away, provides services to Leeds and Bradford, with typical journey times of around 30–40 minutes, offering links for commuting or leisure. Bus routes from Oxenhope run towards Keighley and surrounding villages, adding further transport options for residents.
