An exceptional interior designed triplex apartment, offering rare volume, light and privacy in the heart of Notting Hill's sought after Artesian Village.

Accessed via a private ground floor entrance, the property opens into a beautifully arranged first floor designed with both entertaining and everyday living in mind. The expansive double-aspect reception room is flooded with natural light, enhanced by west-facing floor-to-ceiling sash windows, creating a bright and inviting space. A separate, modern kitchen sits seamlessly alongside, combining style with practicality.

The second floor is dedicated entirely to a luxurious principal suite, a calm and private retreat, complete with a bespoke dressing room and an elegant en suite bathroom, centred around a freestanding roll top bath.

The top floor provides two further generous double bedrooms, alongside a sleek and contemporary family bathroom, ideal for guests or flexible living.

A standout feature of the home is the private roof terrace, offering a peaceful outdoor space with charming rooftop views across the surrounding neighbourhood.
