About The Area

Eastchurch is a charming village located on the eastern side of the Isle of Sheppey, known for its semi-rural feel, historic character and proximity to beautiful open countryside. The village provides a peaceful setting while still offering convenient access to nearby towns and essential amenities, making it a popular choice for families and those seeking a quieter lifestyle.

The area is steeped in history, most notably home to the impressive Shurland Hall gatehouse, a landmark dating back to the 16th century that sits proudly in the heart of the village. Eastchurch also played a significant role in early British aviation history, adding to the character and heritage of the area.

For everyday essentials, Eastchurch offers a selection of local shops, pubs and village amenities, while the nearby towns of Minster-on-Sea and Sheerness provide a wider range of supermarkets, restaurants, schools and leisure facilities.

The Isle of Sheppey is particularly loved for its natural beauty, with miles of coastline, marshland and countryside walks to explore. Nearby Minster Leas beach offers a lovely seafront promenade, green spaces and cafés, making it a popular spot for relaxing walks and family outings.

For commuters, Sheerness railway station provides regular services connecting to Sittingbourne, where high-speed rail links to London St Pancras and services to London Victoria are available. The A249 also provides road connections across the Swale bridge to the M2 and wider motorway network.

Combining village charm, coastal surroundings and practical transport links, Eastchurch offers a relaxed lifestyle while remaining well connected to the rest of Kent.
