Property Details

An appealing four double bedroom Victorian house with a South-East facing walled garden. Arranged over three floors, the property combines generous proportions, original character and a useful cellar. The ground floor features a spacious double reception room with bay window, wooden shutters, exposed floorboards and a feature fireplace, while the rear is currently a sociable dining area. The well-appointed kitchen has wooden worktops, cabinetry down both sides and French doors opening onto the garden, with potential to extend, subject to the necessary permissions, creating a larger kitchen/dining space. The four double bedrooms are arranged over the upper floors, including two impressive width-of-house bedrooms and two spacious rear bedrooms overlooking the garden. A family bathroom with panelled bath, overhead shower, white tiling and striking black-and-white chequerboard flooring is complemented by an additional separate WC. The secluded garden is paved and enclosed by brick walls, with raised planting beds. Further benefits include a recently installed boiler, some new windows and cellar storage.
