

Linkfield Street, Redhill

£2,750 Per Month

Available fully furnished, this is a home with far more to offer than first meets the eye, combining three-bedroom accommodation with flexible living space, an established garden and the increasingly valuable addition of a separate home office.

Set within the attractive Radnor Court development, the property has a welcoming feel from the moment you step inside. The front lounge is a comfortable and characterful reception room, with a wide bay window drawing in plenty of natural light and providing an inviting setting for quieter evenings at home.

To the rear, the kitchen and dining room forms a sociable centrepiece to the ground floor. The kitchen provides extensive worktop and storage space, together with a breakfast bar for more informal dining, while the adjoining dining area comfortably accommodates a full-sized table. Beyond here, the conservatory creates another useful living space, enjoying an outlook across the garden and opening directly onto the patio.

Upstairs, the accommodation continues with three bedrooms. The two larger rooms are both generous doubles, while the third bedroom lends itself equally well to use as a child's room, guest bedroom or additional workspace. A modern family bathroom completes the first floor.

The rear garden is one of the property's standout features. Beautifully established with mature planting, colourful borders and a generous paved terrace, it offers a particularly private setting for summer dining, entertaining or simply spending time outdoors. Tucked away at the end of the garden is a detached garden office, providing a dedicated work-from-home environment entirely separate from the main house, with an adjoining store offering useful additional storage.

A garage en bloc provides further practicality, while the location places Redhill town centre, everyday amenities and transport connections within convenient reach.
