136 Hendford Hill, Yeovil BA20 2RG

'136 Hendford Hill' is a handsome, double-fronted, detached, period, four bedroom house dating back to the Edwardian era and built of the locally sourced Hamstone. The property is enviably free from the restrictions of Grade II listing and yet retains many charming features from the period including impressive ceiling heights, ceiling mouldings, full height bay window, large marble open fireplace and panel doors. The property is situated on an elevated hillside location enjoying extensive, west-facing views at the rear of Yeovil town. The main garden is at the rear and is level, having been beautifully landscaped and designed. There is private driveway parking at the front for two to three cars leading to a large one-and-a-half sized integral garage. The accommodation is deceptively spacious, extending to 2235 square feet and highly flexible. Many of the windows enjoy extensive views of the town. The accommodation comprises entrance porch, entrance reception hall, sitting room, dining room, breakfast room, conservatory, kitchen with walk-in larder, rear lobby / garden passage, inner hall and ground floor WC / cloakroom. On the first floor there is a large split-level landing, extended viewing landing, large master double bedroom with en-suite bathroom, second double bedroom with en-suite shower room, two further double bedrooms and a first floor family shower room. The house is heated by mains gas fired radiator central heating and benefits from period-style uPVC double glazed and triple glazed sash windows. There is also a solar panel for hot water. The house is very well presented and enjoys a good flow of natural light from an east-to-west aspect and large windows. It is situated on the south western side of Yeovil town. The centre of the town and it's excellent amenities is within walking distance and yet countryside is just a short walking distance away from the front door.
