"We feel very fortunate to have called this beautiful house home for the last twelve years. We love all the different spaces in the house and how the vibe subtly changes whilst retaining the core aesthetic. There's so much to enjoy in all seasons. It's been great to have friends round in the summer for garden parties, in springtime we love having a coffee on the terrace whilst the sun rises over the church and those long winter evenings are delightful in front of one of our log burners. We'll miss this home very much but it's time to pass it on to someone to make their own memories here."
