Reception Room

At the heart of the home is a stunning reception room, where soaring ceilings and exposed floorboards create an immediate sense of space and history. Rich in charm and atmosphere, the property showcases an abundance of original features that reflect its unique heritage. Enhancing the cottage's individuality still further is a concealed panelled door leading through to the kitchen—a delightful period feature that perfectly complements the home's historic character.

Sitting Room

The cosy sitting room offers an inviting retreat, centred around a charming log-burning stove that provides warmth and character throughout the year. A particularly distinctive feature is the ingenious partition with raising panels between the sitting room and principal reception room, allowing the spaces to be opened or separated as desired.

Kitchen/Diner

The kitchen is both practical and well-proportioned, serving the property well in its current form while offering excellent potential for future enhancement and personalisation.

Bathroom

Completing the ground floor is a charming bathroom, sympathetically styled to complement the cottage's warm and characterful feel.

A staircase rises to the mezzanine bedroom, where open

balustrading overlooks the principal reception room below. This unique layout enhances the feeling of openness while creating a wonderfully atmospheric sleeping space. The elevated position allows natural light to flow throughout the property, further emphasising the impressive ceiling heights and wealth of original character.

External

Outside, the beautiful walled cottage garden provides a peaceful and private sanctuary. Thoughtfully planted with mature flowers, established shrubs and seasonal planting, it offers year-round colour, texture and interest. A generous lawn creates an ideal setting for relaxing or entertaining, while a charming pond, tucked away in one corner, provides an attractive focal point and enhances the tranquil atmosphere. Carefully maintained borders and mature planting combine to create a quintessential English cottage garden, perfectly complementing a home of such historic charm.

Rarely do properties of such historical significance and individuality become available. Full of charm, timeless character and unique appeal, The Meeting House presents an exceptional opportunity to acquire a truly distinctive village home in one of Doncaster's most sought-after locations.

Viewing is highly recommended to fully appreciate the history, character and lifestyle this remarkable home has to offer.

Location

Old Warmsworth is one of Doncaster's most desirable and historic residential locations, renowned for its attractive village setting, character properties and strong sense of community. Designated as a conservation area, the village has retained much of its historic charm while providing convenient access to a range of everyday amenities.

The area is well served by a selection of highly regarded primary and secondary schools. For commuters, Old Warmsworth enjoys excellent connectivity, with easy access to the A1(M), M18 and the wider motorway network. Doncaster Railway Station offers regular direct services to London King's Cross, Leeds, York and Edinburgh, making the village an ideal choice for those seeking the perfect balance between rural character and modern convenience.

For dog walkers, the property is ideally positioned close to the Don Gorge and the Trans Pennine Trail, providing easy access to scenic walking routes and open countryside.

Agent's Note

Prospective purchasers should be aware that six historic gravestones, dating from the 1700s, are situated within the garden grounds. These form an integral part of the property's rich history and heritage, adding to the unique story and character of The Meeting House.
