Guide Price £675,000

Unique detached house providing flexible living situated within the heart of the highly sort after village of Risby. The Coach House is a substantial detached residence of considerable character displaying attractive flint and brick elevations beneath a tiled roof, complemented by later additions that have created a uniquely versatile family home extending to approximately 2,200 sq.ft.

Believed to date from the mid-19th century, with a sympathetic single-storey extension added in 2000, the property offers an appealing combination of period charm and adaptable accommodation, ideally suited to modern family living, multi-generational occupation or those seeking the convenience of substantial ground floor accommodation.

A particular highlight of the property is the series of generous reception rooms which provide exceptional flexibility for both entertaining and everyday life. The impressive sitting room is a room of excellent proportions extending to over 25 feet in length and centred around a striking brick Inglenook style fireplace with substantial oak bressummer beam and inset wood-burning stove. Large windows and glazed doors draw natural light into the room whilst enjoying attractive views across the gardens.

At the heart of the home lies a magnificent garden/dining room which creates a wonderful connection between the principal reception rooms and the outside space. Featuring a vaulted ceiling with roof lights, exposed flintwork, stone flooring and extensive glazing, this outstanding space is flooded with natural light throughout the day and provides an ideal setting for dining, entertaining or simply enjoying the surrounding gardens through the seasons.

The kitchen is fitted with a range of traditional-style cabinetry beneath tiled work surfaces and adjoins a useful utility room. Beyond lies a comfortable family room which provides additional informal living accommodation and creates a natural hub for family life.

The bedroom accommodation is both generous and adaptable. The substantial principal bedroom suite occupies its own wing on the ground floor and benefits from extensive fitted wardrobes, together with a large en-suite shower room. A further ground-floor double bedroom, which could also serve as an additional reception room or study, and an adjacent shower room offer excellent flexibility for guests, dependent relatives, or those seeking predominantly single-level living. To the first floor are two additional double bedrooms, enjoying views over St Giles church and gardens, and served by a well-appointed family bathroom.

Outside

Outside, electric wrought-iron gates open onto a private driveway, providing extensive vehicle parking and access to the detached garage. Mature trees, hedging and established planting create a pleasant degree of privacy and seclusion. The rear garden is principally laid to lawn and provides an attractive setting for outdoor entertaining and family enjoyment, whilst enjoying the backdrop of the historic Norman tower of St Giles' Church, Risby.
