The kitchen/breakfast room is to the rear of the property, and is thought to have been the original milking parlour that was converted around 1708 to provide a farmhouse kitchen, which now has a generous number of fitted units, room for all the usual appliances, and plenty of space for a large table and chairs, perfect for casual dining.

The utility room with a separate W.C has a door to the garden, and a large cupboard by the back door in the hallway offers useful storage space for all the coats and boots for everyday family living.

Stairs from the hallway lead to the first floor, which has five bedrooms, and two bathrooms.

Exposed beams, and pretty lead windows add to the charm of these rooms.

The master bedroom has fitted wardrobes, and access to a large Jack and Jill bathroom. A second bathroom with a separate w.c services the four other bedrooms.

Outside, the property has attractive wrought iron railings, which enclose it to the front. There is gated access to the right-hand side of the property, which leads to the courtyard garden.

The double garage is also accessed to the right-hand side of the property over the driveway, which has parking for several vehicles.
