Denise White Estate Agents Comments

Amsden Lodge is a truly stunning Grade II listed residence, set within the prestigious St Edwards Park development on the outskirts of Cheddleton village. Once part of the historic St Edwards Hospital complex, which was sympathetically converted following its closure in 2002, to create a collection of striking homes that combine period architecture with modern living, all nestled within 122 acres of beautifully maintained parkland. Offering a rare opportunity to live in such an idyllic setting, residents here enjoy a unique blend of heritage, elegance, and tranquillity.

The accommodation within Amsden Lodge is every bit as remarkable as its setting. From the moment you step into the spacious entrance hall, you are greeted by a sense of grandeur, accentuated by high ceilings, picture rails, and imposing sash windows that flood the home with natural light. The heart of the property is the stunning open-plan living kitchen, spanning the full width of the rear. This versatile space is designed for modern family life, with ample room for cooking, dining, and relaxing. A magnificent bay window frames views of the communal gardens, creating the perfect backdrop for entertaining or simply unwinding at the end of the day. Recently enhanced with sumptuous carpets and bespoke shutters, the room exudes comfort and style.

To the first floor, the principal bedroom is positioned to the rear aspect, benefitting from the same impressive bay window, built-in wardrobes, and a private en-suite shower room. Two further double bedrooms, both generously proportioned and full of character, provide excellent versatility for family, guests, or home working. The accommodation is completed by a generous family bathroom.

Externally, Amsden Lodge enjoys two allocated parking spaces and access to the manicured communal grounds that surround the development, offering the perfect blend of convenience and countryside. The property is located a short distance from Cheddleton village, with its range of local amenities, and only a short drive from the vibrant market town of Leek, placing shops, schools, and leisure facilities within easy reach.

With its rich history, grand proportions, and enviable setting, Amsden Lodge is an exceptional home that delivers both luxury and lifestyle in equal measure.
