The property offers a well designed open plan living and kitchen space, with French doors leading directly onto a private terraced garden — a rare feature for apartments of this size and a key differentiator in the local market.

The bedroom is a double, complemented by a modern shower room. The layout makes efficient use of space, creating a practical and low maintenance home suited to both owner occupiers and rental use.

Further benefits include a newly created 999 year lease, a share of the freehold and no onward chain, allowing for a straightforward purchase process.

From an investment perspective, the location provides consistent rental demand due to its proximity to the university, city centre and transport links, making it well suited to long-term letting. Previously rented for £930 pcm.
