Canton & Pontcanna - Two of Cardiff's Most Desirable Neighbourhoods on Your Doorstep

Location is where this property really comes into its own. Clos Dewi Sant sits in a part of Cardiff that gives you the best of both worlds: the established community feel and convenience of Canton, together with the café culture, green spaces and stylish independent character of nearby Pontcanna.

Canton is one of Cardiff's most vibrant neighbourhoods, with Cowbridge Road East providing an impressive choice of independent cafés, restaurants, bakeries, pubs, shops and everyday amenities.

It has developed a reputation for its independent food and coffee scene, creative atmosphere and strong community feel.

And then there is Pontcanna....

Often described as a "city village", Pontcanna is one of Cardiff's most fashionable and desirable areas, combining independent restaurants and coffee shops with beautiful parkland and easy access to the city centre.

The Cardiff Lifestyle Starts Here

One of the biggest attractions of this property is the sheer amount of choice available around you. The independent cafés, restaurants, bars and shops of Canton and Pontcanna are close enough to become part of everyday life rather than somewhere you have to drive to.

Chapter Arts Centre is nearby and provides a much-loved cultural hub incorporating cinema, art, performance, events, food and social spaces.

For those who love the outdoors, Victoria Park, Pontcanna Fields, Sophia Gardens, Llandaff Fields and Bute Park all provide fantastic opportunities to escape the city without actually leaving it.

The Taff Trail also offers an excellent option for walking and cycling, running through Pontcanna and onwards through Cardiff and beyond.

And when you want the energy of the city, Cardiff city centre is within easy reach.

This is a location that works just as well on a Monday morning as it does on a Saturday night.

This means your weekends can look very different depending on your mood.

A coffee and breakfast locally... A walk through Pontcanna Fields or along the Taff Trail... Lunch with friends... An afternoon in Victoria Park... A film, exhibition or event at Chapter Arts Centre... A shopping spree in St David's Shopping Centre; or an evening enjoying Cardiff city centre's nightlife. The list is endless! All without needing to live in the middle of the hustle and bustle - Amazing saving on Taxi's!

For a first-time buyer, this could be an excellent opportunity to secure a two-bedroom home in an established and highly desirable Cardiff location.

Instead of compromising on location to achieve affordability, you can enjoy the lifestyle that comes with living close to Canton, Pontcanna and the city centre.

The second bedroom is also a huge advantage, giving you the flexibility to create a home office, guest room or simply additional storage and living space.

And because the property is vacant and offered with no onward chain, there is the potential for a straightforward move for the right buyer.

For investors, the combination of two bedrooms, allocated parking, strong local amenities and proximity to Cardiff city centre makes this a particularly interesting proposition.

The surrounding neighbourhood attracts a broad range of residents, from young professionals and commuters to couples and those looking for convenient city living.

Its position close to Canton and Pontcanna means tenants can enjoy the lifestyle that makes this part of Cardiff so popular, while the apartment itself offers the practical advantages of low-maintenance living.

For an investor looking for a property with broad appeal rather than a highly niche tenant market, this is one to take a closer look at.

For busy professionals, convenience is everything.

Here, you can enjoy cafés, restaurants, parks and everyday amenities close to home while remaining within easy reach of Cardiff city centre.

The allocated parking space is another significant benefit, particularly for those who need the flexibility of having a car without sacrificing a central location.

Excellent road connections provide access towards the A4232 and M4, while Cardiff Central offers rail connections across South Wales and beyond.

For those who prefer to leave the car at home, walking and cycling routes provide another way to get into the city.

Not every buyer needs a full-time family home. For some, this could be the perfect Cardiff base. A convenient second home for working in the city. A lock-up-and-leave property. A pied-à-terre for those who split their time between locations. A place to stay when visiting Cardiff.

Or simply a home that gives you the freedom and flexibility to enjoy city life without the maintenance associated with a larger property.

That versatility is part of what makes this apartment so appealing.

The property is leasehold with approximately 125 years remaining, with the lease commencing on 1st October 2001.

The annual service charge is £1,949.48 and includes maintenance of the communal areas and parking facilities, together with buildings insurance arranged by the management company.

The property benefits from allocated parking within the communal parking area.

The apartment is connected to mains services and benefits from gas central heating, with the communal heating system having been installed in 2001 and most recently serviced in March 2026.

Perhaps the biggest attraction is that there is nothing complicated about the opportunity.

With a guide price of £180,000 – £190,000, this is an opportunity to secure a two-bedroom apartment with parking in a highly desirable part of Cardiff, surrounded by the best of Canton and Pontcanna and within easy reach of the city centre.

Because properties offering this combination of location, two-bedroom accommodation, parking, vacant possession and no onward chain do not come along every day.

Sometimes the best way to know whether a property is right for you is simply to walk through the door.

Imagine where your sofa would go and start planning your own space.

Clos Dewi Sant is ready. The keys are waiting. Don't miss your opportunity to make this Cardiff apartment yours.
