The property boasts 2 Double Bedrooms, each with its king size ottoman bed, Dreams orthopaedic mattress, sliding doors wardrobes in Halifax Oak, mirror, and blackout blinds. All the fitted furniture on the first floor has been designed and installed by James Kilner to a high standard. The single bedroom has been converted into a Home Office, also fitted in Halifax Oak, with ample shelving and desk space cosily accommodating professionals working from home. Alternatively, this could be converted back to a third bedroom if so desired by the new home owners.

The light and airy ground floor revolves around a fully equipped Kitchen, with glossy white units, a complete set of stainless-steel cooker hood, gas hob, fan assisted oven, and sink, as well as the smart washing machine and 4-door American-style fridge freezer. Adjoining it, the Lounge boasts an impressive L-shaped sofa that can seat 6 very comfortably, and merges seamlessly into the Dining Room, which is adorned by an elegant dining table in walnut wood, again seating 6. This open-plan space overlooks the sunny patio - and the garden beyond - through French doors flanked by ceiling-to-floor curtains.

There is considerable storage space throughout the property, with mindfully placed cupboards that blend into their surrounds. The main entrance porch has been fitted with cubical shoe compartments and a coat rack. The side door, which leads to the porch and back garden through a fully enclosed utility corridor, also has several wooden cupboards, coat rack, mirrors that subtly amplify the space, an airing cupboard, and a particularly bright area around the back door, where house plants would thrive.

The feeling of tranquillity and privacy remains conspicuous throughout the property. The sunny porch and wildered garden are completely enclosed by solid 6-foot fencing, painted in Cuprinol Ducksback cedar. There is an established row of Leylandii conifers towering over the left-hand-side of the 130-square-metre backyard, lending their fragrant evergreen shade to a variety of nesting wildlife, from robins and wrens, to blackbirds and collared doves.

Numerous birds can be watched here throughout the year, such as tits, starlings, finches, dunnocks, swallows, woodpeckers, and house sparrows. There are also a variety of bees, butterflies, ladybirds, lacewings, and dragonflies. The new owners would be further beckoned to revel in the great outdoors by the herb garden, carefully laid in-between the Leylandii and the laundry lines, with fresh chives, thyme, oregano, mint, and sage ready to be used in the kitchen year-round.

The textured Garden presents multiple seating areas, including a large firepit that could effortlessly accommodate a party of 8 gathered around for a BBQ or bonfire. The overarching intention has been to achieve a low-maintenance, self-sustainable, cottage style garden, planted almost entirely in perennial specimens, that is inviting to a myriad of wildlife, whilst remaining practical for the owners.

There are a couple of benches nestled under a native Willow tree at the back, overlooking a mature Olive tree growing in-between the useful garden shed and the bird feeding station. Opposite, a half-metre-deep river of limestone meanders alongside the right-hand-side fence, adding nightly glow to the overhanging solar lights. This passes a self-fertile Stella Cherry tree, and a carefully planted row of rosemary, mint, crab apple, and oregano, leading towards the dwarf Bay tree, fragrant Jasmine climbers, and Hazelnut bush.

By contrast, the large, open-plan front yard has been primarily laid to limestone, with the driveway offering off-the-road parking for 3 cars. The house's modern fuse board is EV charger ready, should the new owner wish to have an electric vehicle charging point fitted. Metal fencing powder coated in black has been opted for in the front yard, with Dog Rose weaving through, and clusters of Campanula planted at the base.

On the technology front, the property boasts a complete, 24-hour live CCTV system with dedicated NVR; full fibre Gigabit ethernet; comprehensive WiFi coverage that extends to the garden, thanks to professional grade Access Points; as well as a 106-inch motorised projection screen in the lounge, where a projector with dedicated sound system could very easily be fitted alongside a more traditional flat screen TV, for a truly outstanding cinema room feel.

The property's new roof has been fitted in flat terracotta tiles to allow for solar panel deployment, should the new owner wish to take the already great EPC rating C to the next level. Similarly, the spacious loft can either be used for storage, or be converted to an attic room. The entire house exterior has been painted in 3 coats of Dulux Weathershield, thus helping to better regulate the thermal envelope of the building during the summer months. A cavity wall insulation certificate from CIGA is available.

In addition to the modern bathroom with PVC shower panels and towel radiator, the new double radiators with thermostatic valves throughout, the condensation boiler with wireless room thermostat, energy efficient lighting across the board, sensor lights, floodlights, and lockable double glazing throughout, safety locks have been added to windows for additional security. The property also has smoke and carbon monoxide alarms, with the kitchen fitted with a fire blanket and an all-in-one fire extinguisher. Both the gas and electricity meters are smart, with an in-home display available.

Furthermore, the house is fully carpeted throughout, was freshly painted internally in June 2025, and then professionally cleaned in July 2025. To alleviate any allergy sufferers' concerns, this has been a smoke free and dog free home, nevertheless the ample backyard would be perfectly suitable for a family dog.
