You can change an apartment. You can't change where it is.
And this one is in Four Oaks.

Set on the first floor with an elevated view across beautifully kept gardens, this is an opportunity to come in, make some changes and create something of your own.

For a first time buyer, it's a chance to get into a brilliant location and improve as you go. For an investor, it's already proved itself as a rental with potential to add value. And if you're downsizing, you've got the location, outlook and convenience that make everyday life easy.

It needs some love, but that's kind of the point.
