K Allan Properties is delighted to bring to market an exceptional parcel of croft land on the beautiful island of Graemsay. This rare opportunity includes approximately 14 acres of land with a ruined dwelling, which may offer potential for planning permission for a new build (subject to the usual consents).

Positioned to take full advantage of spectacular, uninterrupted sea views across to Hoy and the Orkney Mainland, the site offers a truly unique setting for anyone seeking tranquillity, natural beauty, and island living at its most peaceful.

Known as “Orkney’s Green Isle,” Graemsay is rich in wildlife, coastal scenery, and history. The island is home to two iconic lighthouses – Hoy High and Hoy Low – both built in 1851 by Alan Stevenson. Daily life is quiet and nature focused, yet the regular ferry link ensures convenient access to Stromness and onward amenities.

School catchment areas are Stromness Primary School and Stromness Academy.

To view, simply visit the land.
