About Nightingale Cottage

Sitting on a substantial plot of approximately 2.5 acres in the Parish of Bilsington, the land offers excellent potential for a “Good Life”–style smallholding, with scope for growing fruit and vegetables, keeping small animals, and the possibility of accommodating a pony (subject to any necessary consents). Ideal for those seeking a more sustainable, self-sufficient lifestyle, the property combines practical land use with the enjoyment and wellbeing benefits of rural living.

The land is enhanced by mature trees, creating your own delightful woodland setting and a leafy canopy that provides welcome shade during warmer months.

The garden is complemented by a collection of versatile outbuildings offering excellent potential. These spaces have previously supported a variety of creative pursuits, including painting and pottery, and lend themselves to a wide range of hobbies or home projects. The largest building provides an impressive leisure area, comfortably accommodating a full-size snooker table while still offering generous space for additional recreational or entertaining uses.

Two five-bar gates to either side of the bungalow, provide access to generous off-street parking, offering ample space for multiple vehicles and easily accommodating larger requirements such as a motorhome or horsebox.
