THE BARCLAY "Oh to be besides the sea..."

The pier juts out from the shore, the colourful frontage of seaside homes lines cliffside streets and the distant waft of fish and chips sends your senses tingling. This is the essence of Great British seaside nostalgia.

Never has a setting been more iconic in English society; we really do love to be beside the sea.

The British seaside pastime has been enjoyed for generations - it is Cromer's iconic heritage architecture which has been here to see it all.

Locally known as 'The Cottage', Collison Place was originally built as a community hospital in 1888, thanks to the work of the founding committee and the generosity of Mr G W Collison.

The building and apartments have been named in homage to Mr Collison and six of the committee members and their legacy and throughout Collison Place you will discover fond nods to this important past-life have been preserved.

Life at Collison Place offers an elegant blend of tradition and vogue.

Wake up to church views and a sea breeze flowing through the sash windows of this elegant double-fronted Victorian Cromer apartment.

Grab your morning coffee to takeaway and stroll upon the cliffs, promenade and along the pier.

But once you step through the front door, a grand entrance hall welcomes you; Victorian tiles tease the way to a cut-string staircase, sweeping beneath an 18-arm brass chandelier

CROMER

Cromer has an exciting vibe and fantastic amenities. Perhaps start the day with a morning coffee at Rocket Café, overlooking the sea, or catch up with friends at New Fig and Olive Deli.

From perusing local independent shops to dining in some of Norfolk's favourite eateries, Cromer delivers a lifestyle to be envied.

At the end of the spectacular Victorian pier, sits a 500-seat pavilion theatre, hosting a wide variety of shows, from March to the end of December.

The pride of those who call this town home is the modern Lifeboat, watching over all who live and visit the coast it launches heroically from the end of the pier slipway.

Other attractions include a cinema, Amazonia Zoo and the Cromer Museum and Lifeboat Museum.

And when the sun sets on the horizon, there's nowhere better to be than Gangway wine bar or the acclaimed No1, run by Michelin-starred chef Galton Blackiston.

The town has its own railway station with a good service to Norwich and other prime amenities including a hospital, doctor's surgery, dental surgery, library and the Royal Cromer Golf Club (18 hole).
