

What we like

Let’s start with Dowding Road. It’s an attractive mix of detached and semi-detached mid-20th-century houses, evenly spaced along the road within sight of the local church and just a short walk down the hill to the village centre. Number 12 occupies a larger than average corner-plot, about 36 metres deep, about 16 metres wide at the rear, narrowing to about 13 metres at the front. Despite its current condition, the house has a lot of appeal with its private and quiet setting. It’s certainly a good enough location to create a much more expensive home and the current layout will be adequate for most households. For buyers with a larger budget, the property offers the chance to reimagine the layout, extend the accommodation and create a home of significant long-term appeal.

History & Additions

The gravelled drive sits lower to the side of the house and it leads to a detached garage (probably built 40 to 50 years ago). The house has been in the same family ownership for nearly 50 years and there is a two storey extension to the rear that looks to be the same sort of age as the garage.

Larkhall Lifestyle

Larkhall offers good schools and amenities with a range of independent shops, trendy eateries, butcher, post office, pub, co-op supermarket, The Rondo Theatre and the beautiful St Saviour's Church. It’s Bath with a village vibe.
