Description

Cuckoo Hill is situated in a superb, elevated standalone position and enjoys the most lovely views from all sides over neighbouring countryside. It stands in particularly pretty and mature gardens, with a pond and outbuildings. The house itself is Grade II Listed and is believed to date from the late 16th century. The house was largely refurbished in the late 1990s. Whilst the attractive and original period features were retained the house has the advantage of being reconstructed inline with modern building regulations of the time. During the vendor's tenure, they have improved the property still further with the installation of a stylish modern kitchen, and family bathroom.

The front door leads to a vaulted reception hall which has a south facing mullion window overlooking the garden, pond and countryside beyond. In addition there is a leaded east facing window. It has a flagstone floor and doors to the sitting room and drawing room. The drawing room is triple aspect with windows to the north, east and south overlooking the gardens and countryside beyond. There is a brick fireplace with bressummer beam above with a Coalbrookdale multi fuel stove. The drawing room has brick flooring in herringbone style and exposed timbers. A door leads to the kitchen which has low level wall units with an integrated fridge, freezer and a dishwasher. There is a two oven electric Aga, an electric oven and an induction hob. There are white quartz work surfaces with inset one and half bowl butler sink and an integrated wine fridge. The room has east and west facing windows and a stable door to a porch. The kitchen is open plan to the dual aspect dining room with north and east facing windows. There is a built-in utility cupboard with space for a washing machine and tumble dryer. In addition there is a boiler cupboard and storage cupboard. Adjacent to this is the downstairs shower room with WC and handwash basin. Also off the kitchen is the sitting room/snug which is dual aspect with south and west facing views and a brick fireplace with bressummer beam above and Coalbrookdale multi fuel stove. This has tiled flooring in a herringbone style.

Stairs from the kitchen lead up to the first floor landing which has exposed timbers and north facing views, giving access to the master bedroom, two further bedrooms and a bathroom. Bedroom one is triple aspect with south, west and north facing windows with outstanding views over the neighbouring farmland. There is a walk-in wardrobe with hanging rail. Bedroom two is a double with south facing window and exposed timbers as well as built-in wardrobes. The bathroom which has been refitted in recent years has a vaulted ceiling and exposed timbers. It comprises a ball and claw bath, WC, with a double basin vanity unit and an airing cupboard with hot water cylinder and slatted shelving. In addition is a west facing dormer window. Bedroom three is a small double bedroom with exposed timbers and east facing window along with a built-in wardrobe.

On the second floor there are two bedrooms and an ensuite with WC and hand basin. Bedroom four is a double with east facing window with particularly fine views. Adjacent is a study or fifth bedroom with west facing window with countryside views.
