This three-bedroom semi-detached home on Wood Street offers spacious and versatile accommodation over two floors, together with an attached single garage and off-road parking. The property requires modernisation throughout, making it an ideal opportunity for buyers looking for a project or investors seeking to add value. A particular highlight is the substantial rear garden, extending towards Pickwood Park and featuring a stream at the bottom. An excellent opportunity to create a spacious family home in a popular residential location.

Denise White Agent Comments

A three-bedroom semi-detached home situated in a convenient residential location on Wood Street, Leek, offering spacious and versatile accommodation throughout. The property does require modernisation, but retains many attractive period features and provides a fantastic opportunity for buyers looking to put their own stamp on a home and create something to suit their individual requirements. A particular feature is the substantial rear garden, which extends a considerable distance from the property and offers significant potential.

Upon entering, a spacious hallway provides access to the principal ground floor rooms. To the front is a generous dining room/lounge, featuring a bay window overlooking the front elevation with picture railing, creating a characterful and versatile reception space. To the rear is a further lounge, offering a slightly more intimate and cosy setting with views towards the rear of the property as well as access out.

The kitchen is positioned off the hallway and provides access through to a useful rear porch/garage area. The kitchen would benefit from updating and modernisation but offers scope for improvement and the potential to create a practical kitchen space to suit the eventual purchaser.

The property benefits from an attached single garage, with a useful storage room/cupboard to the rear and a downstairs WC. The rear porch area also provides access into the conservatory, which overlooks the rear garden and offers additional flexible living space, although this area would benefit from refurbishment.

To the first floor are three well-proportioned bedrooms. Bedroom One is an excellent-sized principal bedroom overlooking the rear aspect, with fitted wardrobes and a pleasant bay window providing plenty of natural light. Bedroom Two is also a generous double bedroom and benefits from fitted wardrobes, while Bedroom Three provides a useful single bedroom which could equally lend itself to use as a home office, hobby room, nursery or dressing room.

Completing the first floor is a good-sized shower room, offering a practical suite with scope for modernisation.

Externally, the property benefits from a small driveway to the front, providing off-road parking for one vehicle, together with the attached single garage. To the rear is a particularly impressive and substantial garden, extending a considerable distance from the property and leading down towards Pickwood Park, with a stream positioned at the bottom. The garden is currently heavily overgrown and would benefit from significant landscaping and clearance, but its sheer size offers excellent potential for transformation and could provide space for a variety of uses.

At the top of the garden is a paved patio area with steps leading up towards the conservatory, providing a natural starting point for creating an attractive outdoor entertaining space.

Overall, this is a spacious three-bedroom semi-detached home offering considerable potential for improvement. Requiring modernisation throughout, it is likely to appeal to buyers seeking a project, investors looking to add value, or those wanting the opportunity to create a home tailored to their own tastes and requirements, with the substantial rear garden being a particularly notable feature.

Location

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoilt town centre offers a refreshing alternative from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to speciality producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectables to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.

Further afield, you'll find the unique, tooth-like rock formations of The Roaches, Rudyard Lake with its picturesque setting and narrow gauge railway and Tittesworth Water, a popular and accessible attraction for visitors of all ages.
