The Property:

Tucked away behind its attractive exterior, this characterful terraced property offers surprisingly versatile accommodation arranged over three levels, with a blend of traditional features and contemporary touches, with the added bonus of no onward chain.

The ground floor provides a cosy sitting room, centred around a log burning stove, together with a useful rear entrance hall and a well presented bedroom. Upstairs, the accommodation opens up considerably, with a bright and stylish dining kitchen fitted with modern units and integrated appliances. Windows to both sides provide excellent natural light and pleasant views. Also on this floor is a generous second bedroom with windows to the front and a bathroom.

The accommodation continues to the upper level, where two further rooms provide useful additional space. Due to the current staircase and access arrangements, these rooms cannot be marketed as bedrooms, although there is potential for them to be adapted for bedroom use, subject to suitable alterations and any necessary permissions.

To the rear, the property enjoys a private enclosed courtyard, with a sizeable paved area providing plenty of room for outdoor seating, entertaining or simply enjoying the mature surroundings.

Offering plenty of character, adaptable accommodation and scope to make the property your own, this is a home that deserves to be viewed to appreciate its layout and potential.

Location & Directions:

Cockermouth is a charming market town in west Cumbria, ideally positioned between the Lake District and the coast. The town offers a good range of shops, cafés, pubs, restaurants and everyday amenities, alongside well regarded schools and attractive riverside walks. Known as the birthplace of poet William Wordsworth, Cockermouth has a rich history and an appealing mix of Georgian and Victorian architecture. The town sits at the confluence of the rivers Cocker and Derwent and provides an excellent base for exploring the western Lake District, with Keswick, the Solway coast and the Cumbrian fells all within easy reach. With its attractive setting, strong local community and convenient access to the wider area, Cockermouth is a popular choice for both permanent residents and those looking for a base in west Cumbria.
