Avondale, a rare double-fronted family home set within just over a third of an acre of attractive gardens, enjoying open rural aspects and a strong sense of privacy. Positioned in a sought-after semi-rural setting, the property combines countryside outlooks with excellent convenience for Wem, offering rail links and everyday amenities. Shrewsbury and Telford are within easy reach, with onward access towards Chester and the North West, making it ideal for commuters seeking space and tranquillity. The area offers a relaxed lifestyle with scenic surroundings, yet remains well connected, appealing to families and professionals alike. This is a distinctive home with generous proportions and an enviable plot, combining characterful design with excellent accessibility and appealing countryside surroundings throughout the year.

The property is a fine example of a mid-century double-fronted residence, offering well-balanced and generously proportioned accommodation throughout. A welcoming reception hall sets the tone, leading to spacious double-fronted reception rooms that provide excellent flexibility for both everyday living and entertaining, a log burner is found in one of these rooms. The stylish breakfast kitchen sits at the heart of the home, designed for modern family life, and is further complemented by a useful utility room, ground floor WC and cloak/boot room. A self-contained office/study offers an ideal space for remote working or quiet retreat.

To the first floor, a striking bespoke oak staircase with glazed panels leads to an impressive landing. The principal bedroom benefits from its own ensuite, complemented by further well-proportioned bedrooms and a family bathroom, all presented in a practical and comfortable layout.

Externally, the property sits within beautifully established gardens extending to just over a third of an acre, offering privacy, mature planting and open rural aspects. An electricity sub station is visible to the north-west of the property and a horse livery to the rear. The plot provides excellent outdoor space for families, gardening enthusiasts, or those simply seeking a peaceful setting.
