About the property

A rare opportunity to acquire a truly characterful and deceptively spacious family home, dating back to 1871 and occupying an enviable position in the heart of the sought-after village of Bassaleg.

Formerly known as Lilford Cottage and once serving as the village police station, this fascinating historic property combines a wealth of period character with modern family living. The home has been thoughtfully enhanced by a stylish rear extension and now provides exceptionally versatile accommodation arranged over three floors, with five generous double bedrooms and two bathrooms.

The ground floor offers a welcoming entrance, two reception rooms, a spacious family kitchen/diner and a convenient WC. Upstairs, the property continues to impress with five well-proportioned double bedrooms and two bathrooms, providing ample space for a growing family, guests or those working from home.

Externally, the property is equally impressive. To the front is a gated, easily maintained garden, while to the rear lies an outstanding, larger-than-average lawned garden, offering an excellent degree of privacy and space for entertaining, children and family life. A long block-paved driveway provides generous off-road parking, complemented by an attractive paved seating area a particularly rare combination for a property in such a well-connected village location.

Combining period charm, substantial accommodation, an exceptional garden and superb commuter links!

Accommodation

Location

The position is a major attraction. Bassaleg School is within easy walking distance, while Pye Corner railway station is also conveniently close, offering direct commuter services. A selection of local shops, amenities and bus links are readily accessible, providing everyday convenience without compromising the property's peaceful village setting.

For commuters, excellent road connections are available via Junction 28 of the M4, providing straightforward access towards Cardiff, Bristol and the wider motorway network.
