Description

Watermans is a detached house, set within the conservation area, that was constructed in the 1970s of predominantly block construction with rendered elevations under a tiled roof. The house benefits from double glazed windows and doors throughout as well as an oil-fired central heating system and PV panels (that also heat the water), making it particularly efficient. Set over two floors, the majority of the ground and first floor rooms take full advantage of views of the meadow to the rear.

The carport leads to a front door which opens to the front hallway that has doors off to the main hall. From here, stairs rise to the first floor landing and doors lead off to the reception rooms, kitchen, study and downstairs shower room. The sitting room is dual aspect and takes full advantage of the views. It has a sandstone fireplace with woodburning stove. A door returns to the front hallway and a large opening leads to the dining room. This has glazed doors leading to the terrace and hatch to the kitchen. The kitchen has high and low-level wall units, a one and a half bowl sink, space and plumbing for a dishwasher and washing machine, a double electric oven, integrated fridge and freezer, water softener and also an oil-fired boiler which was installed in 2020. There is a window with fine views and a door to the exterior. The downstairs shower room comprises a WC, handwash basin and shower. There is also a high-level window. Adjacent to this is the study which has windows to the front and side of the property.

On the first floor landing, there is a window to the front of the property and doors to the bedrooms. Three of the bedrooms are doubles and have windows with wonderful views over the land. One has a built-in wardrobe and one has a fitted wardrobe and a desk with drawers. The fourth bedroom is a single and has a window to the front of the property. In addition is a bathroom with WC, handwash basin, bath with shower above, and airing cupboard which is home to a hot water cylinder and pressurising tank. In addition is the sauna and large eaves storage cupboard.

Outside

To the front of the property is off-road parking. This leads to a carport and also the integrated garage that has an electric roller shutter door to the front. This measures 19'4 x 10', and has a window to one side and a personnel door into the front hallway. Here there is also the controls for the PV panels and the consumer unit. There is a garden adjacent to the parking area with the main garden to the rear of the house that can be accessed via either side of the dwelling. This faces southwest and abutting the house are patio areas leading to lawn. Within the garden is a timber workshop measuring 11'8 x 8'8 (3.6m x 2.7m). This has fitted workbenches and drawers and power is connected. Adjacent to this is a greenhouse and also a potting shed measuring 8' x 6' (2.4m x 1.8m). This has fitted workbenches.

The parkland meadow is delightful. In total it extends to approximately 6.3 acres and contains substantial trees including marsh elders and willows. In addition are cricket bat willows. The vendor has an informal arrangement with a local farmer who has planted the willows and when they are cut, these provide an income. There is also an orchard with apples, pear, plum, damson, greengage and cherry. Within the grounds is a substantial building of timber construction. The main part of the building which has large doors to the front onto the meadow, measures 32' x 23'6 (9.8m x 7.2m). Adjacent to this are two stables that measure approximately 13' x 11'4' (4m x 3.5m) each. The building has power connected. At the rear is a storage area with three 1,000 litre tanks collecting rainwater, plus a covered area for logs and general storage. There is access to and from the road over a driveway upon which the agents are informed the property has a right of way. The meadow is enclosed by fencing, hedging and ditches and also the River Deben.

The property is fully insured including being insured for subsidence. A copy of the survey is available from the agents.
6. It is understood that a neighbouring property has a right of way over the eastern boundary of the land at Watermans to access their property. This is indicatively marked in yellow on the plan within the particulars.
