Property Description : Cranleigh Parade, Sanderstead

Set above the charming 1930s Cranleigh Parade in the heart of Sanderstead's ancient village, this unique two bedroom home is the only residential flat within the parade accessed via the front thoroughfare with a secure street level entrance shared with only one other apartment; a rare opportunity to own a property with genuine character, privacy and a wonderfully unexpected sense of space. Once inside, the originality of its design becomes immediately clear. The flat was created by ingeniously incorporating the extensive original loft space, forming a striking mezzanine level that transforms the feel of the property.

The mezzanine bedroom is a standout feature: a generous, light filled retreat with room for a king size bed, dressing area and study space. Velux windows combine with the large first floor bay windows below to create an unusually bright loft-style environment, while clever use of the eaves provides discreet additional storage with loft space above. The balcony, with high retaining partition, overlooking the living space enhances the sense of volume, complemented by the high ceilings and solid 1930s architecture, complete with original picture rails and a reassuring feeling of permanence.

The main living area is warm and inviting, centred around a large double glazed bay window with views over the village; from the primary school opposite (pictured) to the mature trees leading to the recreation ground (pictured), and the historic White House beyond. The seamless open plan layout incorporates a well-designed kitchen with attractive tiling, ample cabinetry, generous work surfaces and space for a washer-dryer. Below the stairs to the second floor there is space for a dining area too. A second double bedroom sits on the first floor, overlooking the parade. Heated by a gas-fired radiator and offering space for a bed, wardrobe, drawers and a study desk, it is ideal for a child or teenager attending any of the excellent nurseries and schools nearby. It is currently being used as a 'snug' / TV room. Despite its central village position, the flat enjoys a peaceful setting. The shop below currently operates as a nail bar and is open only during standard daytime hours. The lease has been extended, there is no ground rent to pay, and includes ad hoc repair arrangements. With only two residential flats in the building, this home offers a rare blend of village living, privacy, character and convenience, and all within approximately 40 minutes of central London door to door.

Location

Area Description and Sanderstead Village

Sanderstead is one of Surrey's oldest and most historic villages, now part of Croydon yet still unmistakably its own community and leafy, safe, welcoming and rich with heritage. Cranleigh Parade sits at its heart, surrounded by everyday amenities and green open spaces that make the area so popular with families.

Parking is straightforward, with short-stay bays directly outside (free and unrestricted between 18:30 and 08:30) and plentiful additional parking around Sanderstead Pond, just a pleasant two minute walk away through the Gruffy park. Directly opposite is the large recreation ground, home to a modern children's play area, mature trees and open lawns leading towards the historic White House and the long established cricket and croquet club. Weekends bring a friendly mix of families, dog walkers and locals enjoying the relaxed village atmosphere.

Just yards away is the Gruffy, a second green space with a pond, benches and a charming view of All Saints Church (pictured); a thirteenth century landmark that anchors the village's identity. The lease permits dogs (provided they cause no nuisance), and owners are spoilt for choice: two protected woodlands are situated close by, including the National Trust bird sanctuary (pictured) Selsdon Bird Sanctuary with car park, see here <https://tinyurl.com/ytve6rp5> and Kings Wood (<https://tinyurl.com/Kings-Wood>), both offering miles of peaceful walking trails (see the links within the Brochure here). The bird sanctuary spans hundreds of acres and has its own visitor car park (see aerial image on the Brochure here). Cranleigh Parade itself is a lively hub, with Costa Coffee, an arts and crafts centre for all ages, and a variety of independent shops. The village is exceptionally well served for education, with nurseries, primary schools and secondary options catering from age 2 to 18.

Transport links are excellent, with fast routes into central London of around 40 minutes door to door making Sanderstead ideal for commuters seeking village life without sacrificing convenience. The two restaurants in the Cranleigh Parade attract evening diners and they offer lunch time menus too so there is no need to travel into Town to entertain friends or family. A ten minute bus drive away is another ancient Village, Warlingham, with its family friendly pubs and quintessentially English central village green. Sanderstead and its close surroundings have popular local schools as well as a large Waitrose supermarket and the 403 bus stops almost outside in both directions stopping outside Sanderstead Train station within a few minutes (25 minutes direct to London Bridge or Victoria or 5 minutes to East Croydon), alternatively all day parking is easy and close to the station and within a 3 minute drive of the Village. <https://maps.app.goo.gl/dfCc3LU3jZ7Nbiud8>

The All Saints village Hall just around the corner offers various classes, like an art class and yoga class and this is a good place to make acquaintances easily thanks to these facilities. This is a place where heritage, community and green space come together beautifully, and where homes like this, full of character and individuality are rarely available.
