IF YOU LIVED HERE...

The home opens with a classic period frontage, where warm brickwork and traditional detailing create an inviting first impression. A graceful bay window anchors the façade, complemented by tall upper windows that lend a pleasing sense of balance.

Inside, the ground floor unfolds through a welcoming hallway into a full-length reception and dining space. Timber flooring and generous ceiling height enhance the sense of continuity, while fitted cabinetry in both sections offers thoughtful storage and display. The bay window with shutters fills the front area with soft daylight, and the dining zone provides a smooth transition towards the kitchen while maintaining an easy flow.

The kitchen continues the bright, uncluttered feel of the home, keeping everything practical and enjoyable. Its position beside the side return and direct connection to the dining room makes it well suited to future enhancement (STPP), allowing the space to feel more connected to the garden and encouraging a harmonious indoor-outdoor feel. The adjoining bathroom maintains a pared-back style with a full-length bath and useful concealed storage.

The garden offers an ample sweep of lawn, guided by a stepping-stone path towards the studio at its end. It's a generous outdoor area, ideal for relaxing, entertaining or simply enjoying the seasons outdoors. The studio is bright and adaptable, providing a versatile extra room for work, exercise or creative projects.

Upstairs, two restful bedrooms sit on the first floor, each benefiting from soft tones and excellent natural light. The loft level adds a peaceful bedroom illuminated by a skylight, with discreet eaves storage helping maintain a calm sense of space. An adjoining shower room completes the top floor with freshness and a gentle touch of colour.

The surrounding neighbourhood offers a lively mix of green spaces, independent cafés and everyday essentials. East Ham High Street brings a broad selection of shops, places to eat and useful amenities, along with the much-loved Red Lion. Heading the other way, Barking Road provides further dining and shopping, with the beautifully restored Boleyn Tavern adding a striking landmark. Central Park offers a wide, open park setting with its café, playground and tennis courts. Families are well served too, with strong schooling options nearby, including the outstanding Vicarage Primary School around a ten-minute walk away.

WHAT ELSE?

East Ham Station is an easy 15-minute trip by bus, giving you quick access to the District and Hammersmith & City lines for direct journeys into central London, the City and the West End. Local bus routes also run through neighbouring areas, making it simple to reach nearby communities as well as broader transport links.
