GENERAL COMMENTS

The Barn is a substantial detached conversion offering an unusually flexible arrangement of accommodation over two levels. The generous proportions, multiple bath and shower facilities and ground-floor bedroom make the property suitable for a variety of household requirements. Situated in a farm setting, close to the south coast as well as Tregony, the position is very convenient.

The principal reception room is particularly spacious and has doors opening directly outside. The kitchen and dining room is fitted in a contemporary style, with an island providing additional preparation space and informal seating. A ground-floor bedroom offers useful flexibility for guests, relatives or home working.

The first-floor accommodation is divided into two distinct areas. The principal bedroom and a large study or dressing room are complemented by a spacious shower room, while a further bedroom and family bathroom occupy the opposite side. The study or dressing room is of especially generous proportions and provides considerable flexibility for working from home, hobbies or additional occasional accommodation.

Outside, the property is approached over a gravelled driveway providing ample parking. The gardens are enclosed and include areas of lawn, gravelled pathways and a sheltered paved terrace positioned beside an impressive stone retaining wall.

THE PROPERTY

A front door opens into the main entrance hall, which provides access to the kitchen and dining room, ground-floor bedroom and stairs rising to the first floor.

The kitchen and dining room is fitted with a comprehensive range of contemporary units and work surfaces. A central island provides further storage, preparation space and informal seating. Integrated appliances and extensive work surfaces contribute to the practicality of the room.

The lounge is an exceptionally spacious reception room extending to almost 17 feet in length. Multiple windows provide good natural light, while glazed doors create a direct connection with the garden and terrace. Its generous proportions allow space for several seating areas, freestanding furniture and home entertainment equipment.

Bedroom two is positioned on the ground floor and offers a useful degree of independence. Its size and location make it equally suitable as a double bedroom, guest room or additional reception space.

On the first floor, the principal bedroom is a well-proportioned double room. An adjoining study or dressing room is particularly generous and has been arranged with extensive storage and workspace. This room offers excellent flexibility and could accommodate a substantial home office, dressing area or hobby space.

A spacious shower room serves this section of the first floor. On the opposite side of the property is bedroom three, together with a separate family bathroom fitted with both a bath and shower.

TREGONY

Tregony is a thriving community, sometimes referred to as the "gateway to the Roseland" offering a post office, shop, pub, Churches and both primary and secondary schools are within a short 10 minute walk. The village is easily accessible to the whole of the Roseland Peninsula and hence very much a centre for tourism during the summer months. The city of Truro is about seven miles and St. Austell slightly further. The village also has the benefit of a regular bus service. The harbourside villages of Portloe and Portscatho are each about four and seven miles distant, and St Mawes is about 11 miles to the south.
