Dennison Terrace was built in approximately 1890 and was originally sited on the outskirts of the Harewood House Estate (see map) which was later sold off in the 1950's. The house has unrivalled views of Almscliffe Crag and overlooks a dressage arena. North Rigton has an active village community centred around the delightful Square and Compass pub. Village activities include an annual summer gala, including dog show and children's sports day, as well as a Christmas evening hosted at the Square and compass for village residents. The village also benefits from a village primary school, village hall which hosts fitness classes including pilates and barre, village park and a church.
